Five Nations to Compete in U.S. Army Europe and Africa International Tank Challenge at Grafenwoehr Training Area

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany – Five nations will compete in the U.S. Army Europe and Africa International Tank Challenge at 7th Army Training Command's Grafenwoehr Training Area in Bavaria, Germany, Feb. 7-20, 2025.

The countries participating this year are Denmark, Italy, Slovenia, Switzerland and the U.S. Army.

The 7ATC hosts the USAREUR-AF International Tank Challenge to test competitor's marksmanship skills, physical prowess, and mental agility while engaging in teambuilding competition and building esprit de corps.

This event allows the tank crews the opportunity to enhance their skills and foster relationships while competing against one another in a variety of challenges including offense and defense, and small arms.

The USAREUR-AF International Tank Challenge provides an arena for professional development and for NATO Allies and Partners to share tactics, techniques and procedures as cross integrating during training promotes shared understanding.

While this is the first year of the "USAREUR-AF International Tank Challenge," it is a revival of the "Strong Europe Tank Challenge" hosted by 7ATC at Grafenwoehr Training Area annually 2016-2018.
